The Institute has 7 individual and group therapy rooms, each equipped with modern video equipment. Some of the rooms are also constructed with a one-way mirror for live supervision. A children’s therapy room and computers are also available. In addition to these therapy rooms, the IIFC facility includes a staff room, a graduate assistant office, a testing room, and the Director’s office. The staff room contains six IBM PCs with word processing and spreadsheet software, internet access, and printers. The testing room contains a dedicated computer for administering and scoring assessment instruments. This system also has the technological capabilities to complete on-line assessment instruments. The IIFC also has an assessment library that contains materials for administering and scoring a full range of psychological assessment instruments.
